Bart: My Life

Cummings, J B

In the pantheon of Australian sporting icons, James Bartholomew "Bart" Cummings AM stands alongside Sir Donald Bradman. For over five decades he's been at the very top of his profession, yet the man himself remains a mystery. Now, for the first time, he tells his extraordinary story - a story that will truly stop the nation.

In 'Bart: My Life', he recounts his story from his early years as his father's apprentice to his incredible tally of 12 Melbourne Cup wins, including the highs of the racetrack to the lows of suspensions and near bankruptcy.

Bart Cummings is a living Australian legend and his autobiography will become a classic of its kind.

Stars Over Shiralee

McCorry, Sheryl

Sheryl McCorry's memoir 'Diamonds and Dust' was a runaway bestseller in 2007. Now, in 'Stars over Shiralee', Sheryl continues her story, picking up from the death of her husband Bob McCorry.

Having moved from the Kimberley to a property called the 'Shiralee', Sheryl is rocked by the death of her ex-husband. While continuing to run the Shiralee, Sheryl at first leans on her family for comfort. But soon Sheryl meets a new man and she agrees to marry him, but not before she is diagnosed with breast cancer.

Moving, and inspirational, 'Stars over Shiralee' is the million acre cattle queen's surprising memoir of what happened next.

Hotel Kerobokan

Bonella, Kathryn

Welcome to Hotel Kerobokan, the ironic name given to Bali's most notorious jail by its inmates, where murderers sleep alongside petty thieves, drug and alcohol addiction is rife, guards are corrupt and money talks. Into this hellhole have passed a procession of the infamous and the tragic: the Bali bombers, Schapelle Corby, the Bali Nine and Chris Packer, among many others. 'Hotel Kerobokan' is the shocking inside story of the jail and its inmates written by Australian Kathryn Bonella who spent a year entering the jail every day to co-write Schapelle Corby's bestselling autobiography. Backed up by interviews with prisoners past and present, the truth about Hotel Kerobokan explodes off the page. Simultaneously mesmerising and stomach-turning, 'Hotel Kerobokan' paints a confronting picture.

Decoding The Lost Symbol

Cox, Simon

Following on from the phenomenally successful 'The Da Vinci Code' and 'Angels and Demons', Dan Brown's next thriller, 'The Lost Symbol', is set to feature Harvard symbologist Robert Langdon once again, whose exploits will take him inside the secret societies of the Freemasons and Rosicrucians - replacing Opus Dei and the Illuminati of previous adventures. Simon Cox is the author of two other guides to Dan Brown's novels, 'Cracking the Da Vinci Code' and 'Illuminating Angels and Demons', and 'Decoding the Lost Symbol' is hotly tipped to repeat their huge success. Simon Cox's guide will be the essential and most authoritative companion to 'The Lost Symbol', giving vital background information and shedding new light on the many mysteries at the heart of Dan Brown's new story.

Truth Hurts, The

Carey, Wayne with Happell, Charles

In his extraordinary memoir, Wayne Carey goes where no Australian sportsman has gone before - telling the whole, uncensored truth about a career whose implosion was as spectacular as Carey's legendary on-field exploits. From his brutal upbringing in Wagga Wagga to his early teen years where he discovered his love of, and talent for, football; covering the highs of his glory days at North Melbourne to his public downfall after his affair with his vice-captain's wife, Carey's memoir is extraordinarily honest. His life became a train wreck, as he lurched from one disastrous incident to the next - each played out on the front page of every newspaper in the country. This is the story of how a man can reach rock bottom, but begin to haul himself up again. This is without doubt the most powerful sporting memoir published in Australia.

Christine Nixon

Nixon with Chandler

'Christine Nixon: Fair Cop' reveals the remarkable rise through police ranks of Australia's first female Chief Commissioner.

Christine Nixon has been a police officer for more than 30 years. After cutting her teeth in the New South Wales Police Force, where she attained the rank of Assistant Commissioner, Nixon was appointed Chief Commissioner of Victoria Police in April 2001. Her eight-year tenure has been characterised by her tough anti-corruption stance, her frequently acrimonious relationship with the Police Association and her high approval ratings with the Victorian public.

All That Shimmers

Jaeger, Jade

Fendi, Christian Louboutin, Alex Perry, Jimmy Choo: with friends like these, who needs fidelity? When Jade Jaeger vowed "for richer or poorer" to her millionaire entrepreneur boyfriend, she was swept away in a cloud of Porsche smoke, and entered the ASH world: that of Affluent, Suburban Housewives, who wile their time away with cocaine and canapés, as their spoil children are raised by nervous nannies. But all that glitters ain't necessarily gold, and when her husband's eyes start wandering, Jade is one yummy mummy who won't take it lying down. As fashion replaces passion and her material-girl life starts crashing like an unhealthy stockmarket, Jade is faced with a dilemma: overlook the betrayals and keep her luxurious lifestyle? Or start over, alone and broke, but with dignity?

700 Habits of Highly Ineffective Parents

Biggins, Jonathan

Following the success of his first book 'The 700 Habits of Highly Ineffective People', Jonathan Biggins explores the world of the ineffective parent, that dismal figure traditionally held responsible for all the sins, problems, hang-ups and disappointments of their ungrateful progeny. Yes, it is Mums and Dads who created history's long line of miscreants, from Caligula to Pol Pot, from Attila the Hun to Naomi Campbell. Who created those depressed lumps trapped in dead-end suburban lives, spending thousands on therapy, ambition thwarted? The ineffective parent.

Michael Jackson

Taraborrelli, J Randy

The definitive biography of Michael Jackson, now completely updated to include the events leading to the untimely death of the star. J Randy Taraborrelli is the expert on Michael Jackson, having known him since they were both teenagers and having interviewed the singer and his family many times. He cuts through the tabloid rumours and innuendo, the conflicting stories and lurid accusations, to reveal the real man. From his drilling as a child star through the blooming of his talent, from his ever-changing personal appearance to his marriages, from his addictions to his love for his children, we see what motivated one of the greatest performers of all time. Objective and revealing, this book combines impeccable research, brilliant storytelling and a clear-sighted understanding of the forces that shaped Michael's life and his death.

Weary: King of the River

Ebury, Sue

Sir Ernest Edward "Weary" Dunlop was the type of rare individual who inspires others to impossible feats by example. Born and raised in Victoria, Australia, he qualified as a pharmacist and surgeon. When World War II broke out, he was appointed a surgeon to the Emergency Medical Unit, spending time in Greece and Africa before he was transferred to Java. As commanding officer and surgeon in the POW camps of the Japanese, he became a legend to thousands of Allied prisoners whose lives were saved with meagre medical supplies. In those camps, at great personal risk, he recorded the deprivation and despair of the men under his command.

World of the Book, The

Cowley and Williamson

French poet Stéphane Mallarmé understood that books hold the world's stories. From the earliest known myths and legends to postmodern fictions, books are mirrors of real worlds, windows into imagined worlds and keepers of powerful ideas.

Beautifully illustrated, 'The World of the Book' is a celebration of this age-old tradition drawing upon the rare collections of the State Library of Victoria. A journey through time and across the globe, this volume features great books and publishing innovations of the past and present. It also revels in the sheer beauty of books as objects to be desired and treasured.

Drawing Italy

Holm, David George

As one of Australia's leading architects, David Holm is passionate about drawing, the built environment and Italy. These three passions are brought together in 'Drawing Italy' to create this intelligent and beautiful guide book to architecture of Italy.

David explains each architectural style as he takes us on a grand tour of Italy region by region, showing all the piazzas, chiesi and palazzo. His drawings are remarkable for their detail and beauty.

Designed for use on the ground (hence the flexi-bound paperback format) as well as in the armchair, 'Drawing Italy' shows us all the major sites of Florence, Rome, Venice, Sienna as well as lesser known but memorable churches and buildings.

Macquarie Dictionary Fifth Edition

Macquarie Dictionary

"This fifth edition of the Macquarie, measuring a new awareness of environment and fragility, will mark a turning of the tide in our consciousness, in the span of our response, in the way we give voice to place - and place to voice." (Her Excellency Ms Quentin Bryce, Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia)

Since the 'Macquarie Dictionary' was first published in 1981, its reputation as Australia's national dictionary has gone from strength to strength. It is now nationally and internationally regarded as the standard reference on Australian English. A comprehensive and up-to-date account of our variety of English, it not only includes all those words and senses peculiar to Australian English, but also those common to the whole English-speaking world.

Ashes 2009, The

Haigh, Gideon

In 2005, it was England's summer. In 2006-7, Australia had its revenge. 2009 loomed as the tightest of contests in Test cricket's longest-running rivalry, both countries in a race to rebuild in the first rematch since the end of the era of Warne, McGrath, Gilchrist and Hayden. Test cricket faced its own challenge: to demonstrate the game's potential for drama and dash over five days in an era increasingly accustomed to cricket in three-hour instalments, after the successful Indian Premier League and World Twenty20.

Oceans

Dwyer, Andrew

Whilst the oceans nourish our souls, threaten us, protect us and define our national identity, they are also home to an astonishing variety of marine flora and fauna. One of the most satisfying culinary pursuits is to catch, prepare and eat absolutely fresh seafood. Whether waist-deep in water, shucking and eating oysters you have just picked off the rocks, or throwing a fillet of freshly caught garfish into a frypan on the back of a boat, whether your fish came from a line thrown from a jetty or you are racing home from the fish market with a bag of fresh sardines, you are doing what so many Australians do - enjoying fresh seafood. The recipes and stories in this book are a celebration of Australia, our maritime history, our oceans and the wonderful seafood they provide.

Raw Deal

McKay, Wayne

Part true-crime stories from the street, part autobiography, 'Raw Deal' is Wayne McKay's story. McKay has lived the hard yards and come out the other side triumphant. From beginnings in a broken home to life on the street and in jail, he has survived without friends and family to count on and very little hope. McKay prides himself on not being a name-dropper or rat, but shares his story as a way of dealing with his past and seeking closure and to show others that he is not who they thought he was. It is also an inspiring tale of how there is always light at the end of the tunnel if you look hard enough.

Flyers Far Away

Enright, Michael

Australian airmen flying with Britain's Royal Air Force in World War II made a remarkable contribution to the Allied cause. There were 17,000 Australian airmen who flew with the RAF. Spread across 500 squadrons in Europe, 5000 died during the war in the air - one of the bloodiest and most punishing campaigns. As these men were not part of the Royal Australian Air Force, their stories were almost forgotten. Now, using first-hand accounts from the surviving airmen, 'Flyers Far Away' tells the full story of these daring young men, from their recruitment in Australia to operations over the Axis territories.

At last these courageous Australian airmen are given their rightful place in the history of the European air war.

Lost Child of Philomena Lee, The

Sixsmith, Martin

When she fell pregnant as a teenager in Ireland in 1952, Philomena Lee was sent to a convent to be looked after as a "fallen woman". When her child was three, he was taken to America for adoption. She never saw him again, and would spend the next 50 years searching for her son, not knowing that he was doing the same thing. Renamed Michael Hass, he grew up to be a top lawyer and then a Republican politician in the first Bush administration. He was also gay, and had to conceal not only his sexuality, but the fact that he had AIDS. In his last months he flew back to the convent to plead with the nuns to tell him who his mother was. When they refused he asked only that he be buried within the grounds of the convent with enough information on his gravestone for his mother to identify him "if she ever came looking".
