Stupid Science
Gregory, Leland

"New York Times" bestselling humorist Leland Gregory chronicles laboratory experiments gone awry, modern day mad scientists, and scientific mythconceptions inside 'Stupid Science'. Consider these cases of misdirected human activity, each in the name of science: The Illinois Department of Conservation spent $180,000 to study the contents of owl vomit. Georgia State University psychology professor James Dabbs discovered in 1988 that trial lawyers have about 30 percent more testosterone in their bodies than normal people (regardless of gender). We all knew that lawyers were full of something - now we know it's testosterone.

Cocktail Primer, The
Klemm, Eben

The original cocktails Eben Klemm creates as master mixologist for BR Guest Restaurants in New York City are the talk of the town. Now you can learn to mix like a master with 'The Cocktail Primer: All You Need to Know to Make the Perfect Drink'. In this mixology guide to creating both classic cocktails and modern twists, Klemm teaches people on the other side of the bar how to make drinks at home. Klemm's philosophy is simple: You don't need to memorise a thousand cocktail recipes; you just need to have a perfunctory knowledge of the basic families into which drinks are divided.
