True Blue

Baldacci, David

Mason "Mace" Perry was a maverick cop on the DC police force until she was kidnapped and framed for a crime and spent two years in prison. Now back on the outside, Mace is trying to rebuild her life and track down the people who set her up. But even with her police chief sister at her side, she has to work in the shadows: there's a vindictive US attorney on her tail and he's just looking for a reason to send her back behind bars. When Roy Kingman discovers the dead body of a female partner at his law firm, his fate becomes entangled with Mace's, as the two team up to investigate. They soon find themselves in unexpected territory; drawn into both the private and public world of the nation's capital, as dark secrets begin to emerge. For what began as a fairly routine homicide investigation will quickly turn into something far more complex. And possibly lethal...

Luck of the Draw

Cardieri, Anthony J

When Detective Deke Durgess finds himself at the scene of a brutal murder in Lower Manhattan, he has no idea that it's just the beginning of the most prolific murder spree in New York City history, one where entire families will be wiped out by a vicious killer dubbed The Daily Killer. The murders are being meticulously committed, with no forensic evidence left behind except for a short note left on the body of the victim. Deke and his team of detectives and FBI agents are at a standstill until a series of events, and one misstep by the killer, leads them toward cracking the code in the victim selection process. Believing he knows where the killer will strike next, Deke sets up a sting operation, only to be slapped back down as the killer turns the tables on him, forcing the police department to take a good hard look at its own finest.

Wormwood, Nevada

Oppegaard, David

Tyler and Anna Mayfield have just relocated from Nebraska to the sun-scorched desert town of Wormwood, Nevada. They find themselves in a strange new landscape populated with old school cowboys, alien cultists, meth dealers, and doomsday prophets.

Loneliness and desperation pervade Wormwood, and when a meteorite lands in the centre of town, its fragile existence begins to unravel as many believe the end of the world is near, while others simply seek a reason to believe in anything at all.

Rogue Warrior: Seize the Day

Marcinko and DeFelice

When Marcinko's "friend", the head of the CIA, asks him to spend a little quality time in Cuba, the Rogue Warrior finds there's no way to say no. Once there, Marcinko and company discover that Fidel Castro is on his deathbed.

Which wouldn't be so bad, except that he's planned a catastrophic surprise for the United States as his going away present. The Rogue Warrior must find out the nature of that little surprise and thwart it before Castro kicks the bucket.

Winterland

Glynn, Alan

In the vein of films such as 'Michael Clayton' and 'Syriana', 'Winterland' is a fast-paced, literary thriller set in contemporary Dublin. The worlds of business, politics and crime collide when two men with the same name, from the same family, die on the same night - one death is a gangland murder, the other, apparently, a road accident. Devastated by her loss, family member Gina's grief is increasingly fuelled by anger - because the more she's told that it was all a coincidence, the less she's prepared to accept it. Told repeatedly that she should stop asking questions, Gina becomes more determined than ever to find out the truth, to establish a connection between the two deaths - but in doing so she embarks on a path that will push certain powerful people to their limits...

Burning Shadows

Yarbro, Chelsea Quinn

In 'Burning Shadows', Yarbro looks at the legendary Huns from the perspective of the people who faced the brunt of their attacks. The vampire Saint-Germain seeks sanctuary at an isolated monastery, unwilling to abandon the hundreds of terrified villagers he has led in flight from the Huns. A few Roman soldiers and some village Watchmen are the monastery's defence force - and they are undermined by the religious fervour of some of the monks, who argue that since everyone's fate is in God's hands, it is foolish to defend themselves. In the hothouse atmosphere of the high-walled monastery, Saint-Germain must take special care when slaking his vampire thirst, for discovery of his True Nature will result in his True Death.

Three Weeks to Say Goodbye

Box, C J

After years of trying to have a baby, Jack and Melissa realise a dream with the adoption of their daughter Angelina. But a phone call that comes nine months after the adoption is unexpected and devastating. The birth father, a teenager, never signed away his parental rights. And his father, a powerful Denver judge, wants him to own up to this responsibility. It is immediately apparent that there's something sinister about both of them and that love for Angelina is not the motivation for their actions.

As Angelina's safety hangs in the balance, Jack and Melissa will stop at nothing to protect their child, and when a horrifying game of intimidation begins, it is clear this may be a battle to the death.

Salt to Taste

Canora, Marco

By skipping steps or glossing over basic techniques, too many cookbooks leave the reader with nothing more than vivid photographs of what their dishes could have looked like. For Marco Canora, of acclaimed Hearth and Insieme restaurants in New York, real success begins with a few key techniques and excellent ingredients. Each section in 'Salt to Taste' starts with a lesson aimed at developing a particular skill, avoiding common mistakes, and revealing the tips and tricks a chef uses to ensure a perfect outcome. These recipes are designed to develop cooks' palates and instincts so they have more control over what ends up on their plates. For any chef - novice or veteran - looking to cook delicious food with confidence and creativity, just add 'Salt to Taste'.

Army of the Republic, The

Cohen, Stuart Archer

In Seattle, a guerrilla named Lando leads the Army of the Republic on a dangerous campaign against the alliance of big business and government. Lando is obsessed with the idea of saving the country from itself. Lando's reluctant ally is savvy political organiser Emily Cortright, coordinator of a network of civil groups that seek to inspire a mass movement powerful enough to throw out the corrupt ruling party. When peaceful public protests give way to violence, Lando, Emily, and James Sands become lost in a welter of assumed identities and conflicting loyalties. On a collision course that will test their deepest beliefs and fears, all of them struggle to both redeem and destroy the people they love most.

Dog Joy

Editors of Bark

Six years ago, a reader of "The Bark" sent in a photo of her smiling dog, with the suggestion that not only would people enjoy seeing her dog, but that they would also like to send in photos of their own. The editors acted on the idea, and it sparked an avalanche of submissions from enthusiastic readers. Since then, they have published approximately 40 photographs per issue and hundreds more online. 'DogJoy' is the result of six years of photographs of smiling, happy, joyous family dogs collected into a perfectly packaged gift book that all dog lovers will want. Highlighting some personal stories about individual dogs and peppered with hilarious captions, the real stories are told by the photographs themselves.

House of Caine, The

Eulo, Ken

When Rob Martin left Millhouse, he was barely out of his teens and Millhouse was his beloved hometown. Ten years later, Rob returns for a brief visit and finds that beneath the calm surface of small-town America, a terrible evil is brewing. Rob's old girlfriend, Elizabeth, is having amazing erotic dreams, dreams that leave her feeling drained and weak the next morning, afraid and yet eager to return to sleep. As mutilated bodies turn up, drained of blood, the sheriff and town council look for a normal explanation for the wave of violence that is engulfing their town - but there is nothing normal about a nest of vampires. Only Rob, his best friend Tony, and a few stalwarts are prepared to drive a stake through the heart of the vampire menace. But will they act fast enough to save Elizabeth's life... and soul?

Talented Miss Highsmith, The

Schenkar, Joan

Patricia Highsmith, one of the great writers of 20th century American fiction, had a life as darkly compelling as that of her favourite "hero-criminal", the talented Tom Ripley. In this revolutionary biography, Joan Schenkar paints a riveting portrait - from Highsmith's birth in Texas to Hitchcock's filming of her first novel, 'Strangers On a Train', to her long, strange, self-exile in Europe. We see her as a secret writer for the comics, a brilliant creator of disturbing fictions, and erotic predator with dozens of women (and a few good men) on her love list. 'The Talented Miss Highsmith' is the first literary biography with access to Highsmith's whole story: her closest friends, her oeuvre, her archives. It's a compulsive page-turner unlike any other, a book worthy of Highsmith herself.

Apocalypse Door, The

Macdonald, J D

The world is a dangerous place, and it's Peter Crossman's job to protect it. Men of the cloth can only do so much against ancient evils - you need the ancient strength of faith. That's where Peter Crossman, Knight Templar in modern America, comes in. Crossman's world is yours and mine. But that world just might end if Crossman doesn't get his latest assignment right. On a routine mission he discovers a plot that points to the uncovering of a very unholy artefact. An object of such power that it might very well open a portal to damnation and beyond, giving some unsavoury people a whole lot of power and bringing about the destruction of the universe. Fortunately, demonic magic isn't the only source of Power in the world... and Crossman's power comes from Above.

Tears of Mermaids

Bloom, Stephen G

Stephen G Bloom travelled 30,000 miles to trace a single pearl - from the moment a diver off the coast of Australia scoops from the ocean floor an oyster containing a single pearl to the instant a woman on the other side of the world fastens the clasp of a strand containing the same orb. Bloom infiltrates high-tech pearl farms and processing facilities guarded by gun-toting sentries, and insinuates himself into the lives of powerful international pearl lords. He farms for pearls in rural China, goes behind scenes at auctions in Hong Kong, trails pearl brokers in Asia, hires himself out as a deckhand on an Australian pearling vessel, and goes backstage at Christie's for an auction of the most expensive pearl ever sold. Teeming with humour and intelligence, 'Tears of Mermaids' weaves a non-stop detective story of the world's most enduring gem.

Girl in the Green Sweater, The

Chiger and Paisner

In 1943, with Lvov's 150,000 Jews having been forced into ghettos and facing extermination, Krystyna Chiger's family daringly sought refuge in the city's sewer system. 'The Girl in the Green Sweater' is Chiger's harrowing first-person account of 14 months in the fetid, underground sewers of Lvov.

'The Girl in the Green Sweater' is also the story of Leopold Socha, the group's unlikely saviour. A Polish Catholic and former thief, Socha risked his life to help Chiger's underground family survive, bringing them food, medicine, and supplies. A moving memoir of a desperate escape and life under unimaginable circumstances, 'The Girl in the Green Sweater' is ultimately a tale of intimate survival, friendship, and redemption.

100 Heartbeats

Corwin, Jeff

As Arctic temperatures continue to rise and glaciers grow smaller, most people have become sadly aware of the plight of the polar bear. But what about the rest of the earth's creatures? How are tigers, alligators, wolves, and monkeys affected by climate change? In '100 Heartbeats', conservationist Jeff Corwin provides an urgent, palpable portrait of the animals that are only a few heartbeats away from extinction. Corwin brings to life the unique struggles of species such as the Asiatic lion; the harsh lessons learned from animals we've lost, like the mouth-breeding frog; and the inspiring stories of successful conservation that have helped to save the sea otter and other animals. And while Corwin voices a warning about the catastrophic state of our natural world, '100 Heartbeats' ultimately provides a message of hope and possibility.
